Introduction

The records were donated to the Labor Archives by the Labor-Management Documentation Center, Martin P. Catherwood Library of the New York State School of Industrial and Labor Relations at Cornell University under the supervision of Richard Strassberg, Director and Archivist. The collection was processed upon arrival by Leon Sompolinsky.

Scope and Content

This small collection of materials on business management associations was gathered by the San Francisco Employers Council Research Department for professor Sumner Slichter of Harvard University to prepare him for his late 1940's study of labor relations on the Pacific Coast. The respondents to a request for information issued by Bill Storie of the Northern California Employers Association Joint Research Service were asked to include the following information about their organization:

- Historical review
- Articles of Incorporation
- Constitution and By-Laws
- Analysis of functions and services
- Basic problems confronting the organization
- Any comments they may care to make
